

DEAR SISTER IN CHRIST,

Thank you for sharing my passion to teach Christian women to reflect their redemption in all of life. For our students lives to be a doxology of praise to God, they must "take captive every thought to make it obedient to Christ" (2 Corinthians 10:5). Helping them in this endeavor is a priceless privilege and a sacred responsibility. Teaching God's Word always brings attacks from the enemy of our souls, but teaching about biblical womanhood is especially risky because this is territory that Satan does not want to give up. There is too much at stake. But that is the reason we must teach women about biblical womanhood, and it is the reason we must pray for one another. The memory verses for this study are my prayer for you and for the women you teach. I will be praying for you every Wednesday, and I urge you to pray for one another.

For God's Glory,
Susan
 Susan Hunt

TABLE OF CONTENTS

1	HER TIME	1
2	HER STANDARD	5
3	A RECIPIENT OF REDEMPTION	9
4	A REFLECTION OF REDEMPTION	15
5	A CULTIVATOR OF COMMUNITY	21
6	A CHANNEL OF COMPASSION	25
7	PIETY	33
8	PURITY	37
9	DOMESTICITY	43
10	SUBMISSION	49
11	CONCLUSION	55